PARKER HERE

Thinks the Populists Will Have a State Ticket.

Admits That the Republican Have a Better Chance Than Ever Before.

Hon. Jo A. Parker, the well known Populist, was in the city yesterday and this morning is en route to Princeton, Ky., from Carlisle county, where he made speeches in the interest of his party.

"We are to have a convention on the 27th of this month," he said, "and expect to have a good ticket—a ticket that disgruntled Democrats who oppose socialism and are for free silver can conscientiously endorse. We will extend a hearty welcome to them to come back into the fold."

Speaking of the Republican party, he said: "Yes, I think the Republicans have put out a good, strong ticket, and I also think, from what I have seen and heard, that their chances this year are better than ever before, for I never saw such disaffection as exists in the Democratic ranks. Some of the disappointed and soreheaded Democrats may come around all right before election time, but there are a great many who will not. Two elements will never become reconciled to socialism or socialism. These are the church and religious element and the money element."

Mr. Parker left this morning at 7:45 o'clock and expects to make a speech at Princeton.

MAY BE ELEVATED.

Dismissal of Collector Sapp Asked for Under Civil Service Rules.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—It is rumored that the civil service commission will ask the secretary of the treasury for the dismissal of Collector Sapp, of Louisville. Postmaster Baker, of the metropolis, claims that a secret service agent made an investigation and found that the officials in Collector Sapp's office had been levying campaign assessments. This is strictly prohibited by the civil service laws, hence the request.

MANILA FACTS SUPPRESSED.

Charge of a Joint Report From Correspondents of American Papers.

HONG KONG, China, July 17.—At the American correspondents in Manila, J. L. have issued a statement to the press of America saying that the conditions in the Philippines are not favorable to American troops and that the facts are not correctly represented in the official reports. The joint report is calculated to cause a sensation in America when it becomes known among the people who have so long been misled.

GOLD HUNTERS LOST.

Characters of Horrors Which are Coming From Klondike.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 17.—Information has reached here of the death by drowning of three women with their husbands and five other persons who were en route to the Klondike region. News has also been received of the drowning of seven other prospectors from Chicago, those losing their lives in Alaskan waters.

TIN PLATE BOOM.

Number of Factories Start Up Again With Increased Wages.

ELWOOD, Ind., July 17.—The largest tin plant in the world, which is located here, has resumed work after a shut down. All the plants in the country are to be started up again at earliest moment and with an increase of wages to the employees. The fact causes much rejoicing.

ANOTHER BANK CLOSURE.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 17.—The Germania State bank was closed up unexpectedly to the public by the bank examiners today. There is as yet no explanation of the cause.

MAN BE HUNG UP.

PARIS, France, July 17.—It is generally believed the scandal agent, Gustave Dreyfus, will be hanged up with the acquittal of the noted prisoner.

HE ESCAPED.

Leonard Block Gives Officer Colyer the Slip.

Leonard Block, the ex-policeman who was fined $1 and costs this morning in the police court on a charge of slapping his wife, and whose case for malicious shooting without warning was continued until tomorrow, escaped just before noon from Officer Colyer, who had been guarding him for two days, and cannot be found. The prisoner could not give bond, and the officer had the greatest confidence in him, and even agreed to go on his bond with any one else. While out in quest of a bondsman, however, the officer went into Harbour's shortly before noon to change shoes, and left the prisoner in the door, where he started out the latter was gone and could not be found. He had been with the officer for nearly two days, and had a dozen chances to get away, hence the officer was greatly surprised at his action.

ALL FOOLISHNESS.

Miss Maud Stova's Is Doubtless Safe and With Friends.

The citizens of the Farmington section of Graves county, from which Miss Maud Stova mysteriously disappeared June 5, have offered a reward of $200 for any information of her whereabouts. The officers of the county have been untiring in their efforts to locate her, but so far without any success. An exhaustive search of the premises by the officers a few days ago was fruitless, and her relatives now think she has left the state and gone to Missouri or Tennessee. There are a great many people in that section who think all the stir over her disappearance is very uncalled for and that the girl is safe. She was said to be in delicate health when she left, and probably went where she could escape the humiliation incident to the usual outcome of such condition.

POLICE COURT

Allie Morton, Colored, is Charged With House Breaking.

Quite a Number of Offenders Before Judge Sanders This Morning.

Allie Morton is a colored girl about 17 years old who was recently arrested on a charge of robbing a Mayfield man. Her mother, Adeline Morton, is in jail on a charge of robbing another man from the country, and yesterday the girl, who was acquitted on the other charge, is alleged to have been seen to go into a window of Catherine Davis' home on Washington street. She did not steal anything that has yet been found, and the case against her was continued until tomorrow.

Gilbe Travis, another notorious negro, was charged with a breach of the peace, and was sentenced to thirty days in jail.

The housebreaking case against Cordie Brown, colored, was continued until next Monday.

Bruce Gilliam, of the county, was fined $1 and costs for drunkenness, and ten dollars and costs for fast driving.

Morton Brooks was fined $1 and costs for being drunk.

Isabella Burton, for using insulting language, was fined $10 and costs. Leonard Block, Jr., an ex-policeman, was fined $1 and costs for a breach of the peace.

A case against him for malicious shooting without warning with intent to kill, was continued. He is alleged to have come to the city a few days ago and had trouble with his wife, who resides on Broad street. A pistol was drawn, it seems, and fired, perhaps accidentally.

Wm. Connors, for being drunk, was fined $1.

THE RAINFALLS.

Various Places Got Good Showers Yesterday Afternoon.

The rainfall in Paducah yesterday afternoon was 2.3 inches. In Bowling Green, 3.2; Henderson, 1.5; Erlington, trace; Hopkinsville, .27; Owensboro, .33; Richmond, .92; Memphis, trace; Nashville, .4; Cairo, .4; Cincinnati, .38.

Yesterday was one of the hottest days of the year. The thermometer at its maximum was 100 degrees in the shade, while the two previous days it was 99. Today the lowest was 72.

SENTENCED TO JAIL.

Speck Sawyer, Whose He Had Testified at Mayfield.

Speck Sawyer, for refusing to testify in a murder case, was given a sentence of one year and eight months in the county jail at Mayfield Saturday. Sawyer was a witness for the Commonwealth in the case of Joe Hammond, who shot and killed Tom Stobblefield at Mayfield last March and who was given 14 years for the killing.

STREET CAR STRIKES.

Increased Troubles in Brooklyn and Renewal in Cleveland.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 17.—The street car strike has prevented the cars from running regular on most of the lines as yet, though the strikers have made desperate efforts to this end. There has been some violence at several points, however, but notwithstanding this feeling both sides are confident of winning their position. The strikers claim there will be a general tie out tonight.

CLEVELAND, O., July 17.—The street car employees again went on a strike this morning, tying up most of the lines. They claim that their employers didn't keep their agreements with them. There has been no violence as yet, but there may be some if there are no efforts made to pacify the men.

TAKING A VACATION.

Night Clerk Charles Clark, of the postoffice, is taking a fifteen days' vacation, and Day Clerk McFadden is filling his place, while Mr. Eddie Farley is at the general delivery window in place of Mr. McFadden. Mr. Clark will spend his holiday hunting and fishing at neighboring places.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS

Supt. Henshaw Arrives in Style and Spends a Few Hours.

A Fireman Badly Hurt Up Near Caneyville Yesterday Morning—Other Notes.

Superintendent William Henshaw, of machinery, whose headquarters are in Chicago, but who has been to New Orleans on business connected with the Illinois Central, arrived last night and was in his private car with a retinue of clerks and assistants near the dispatcher's office until this afternoon, when he left at 12:15 for St. Louis. His business here was in connection with the shops, which are rushed. He may, before he returns to Chicago, make the appointment of general foreman here, which has never yet been made. Mr. James Keegan has been acting general foreman for several months, and has made an efficient and popular official.

Fireman F. McCormick, of No. 82, a freight train, was perhaps fatally hurt at Goff, near Caneyville, above Central City, night before last. He is a brother of Supervisor P. H. McCormick, of Fulton, and his mother resides at Kansas City, Mo. He was in his train when he received a sudden and terrible blow in the head. He fell back in the cab and was put off at the first station, Caneyville, where it was found that he had been struck by a mail crane that had been set for a passenger train. An operation was performed by the company surgeon on his head, several pieces of bone being removed from his brain. The first thing he called for when he lapsed into consciousness was a glass of beer. His injuries are thought to be serious, but the result cannot as yet be determined.

Superintendent W. J. Harahan, of the Louisville division, Superintendent A. Philbrick, of the Memphis division, Roadmaster Wallace, Traveling Engineer R. D. Davis, and several minor officials, of the Illinois Central, arrived this morning on a special train and spent the day in the city. They are here on business connected with the road, and Superintendent Harahan will have a conference with Mayor Lang during the day. It is likely, in regard to the Tennessee street work and the river front property the city owns.

Yesterday the Illinois Central ran an excursion from St. Louis and way points to Paducah, and the conductor reported 335 people into Paducah when he arrived. The train reached the city about 2 o'clock and left after supper. The excursionists spent the time they were here in seeing the city.

Yesterday afternoon the train from St. Louis, due at 3:35, jumped the tracks as she was pulling into the Union depot. There is a curve that has to be passed just before the shed is reached, and this is where the wheels of the train were derailed. The train was stopped inside of fifty feet, and there was considerable of a panic among assembled passengers on the platform as the engine came jolting in their direction. The damage was slight and the train was back on the track in about fifteen minutes.

Superintendent Harahan, of the Illinois Central, is here to hold a conference with the street committee and mayor and Congressman Wheeler relative to the Tennessee street railroad improvements, and will meet the committee this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the railroad building. The city, it will be remembered, does not desire the railroad to build its tracks there as the street if extended would be endangered by them. It is not thought the company can consistently comply with the request, but it is not known what the result of the conference will be.

Auditor C. B. West's family has gone to Chicago on a visit. After October Auditor West's office, which has been in the Union depot for some time past, will be moved to Louisville, and Paducah will regret to lose him, as he is one of our best citizens.

MR. HANBERRY MAY RECOVER

Attorney Max Hanberry, of Cadiz, Trigg county, who formerly lived here, arrived this morning on business in the U. S. courts, and reported that his cousin, Postmaster T. T. Hanberry, who fell from a train Friday and was so badly hurt, is thought to be better, and there is believed to be hopes of his recovery.

This afternoon the doctors who are attending Mr. Hanberry agreed to disagree, one saying there was no hope and another that there is. Mr. Hylles, of the Bybee Brush works, made about the same jump that Mr. Hanberry did, yesterday morning, except he did not jump off the freight, and was painfully, but not seriously hurt.

MR. SCHOLER EXHONORATED

Mr. J. A. Scholer, of Cadiz, Trigg county, was given a final hearing before U. S. Commissioner Paryear this morning on a charge of selling whiskey without a license, and acquitted, as it was shown that he was selling for a man who had a license. He was arrested several days ago and his case continued until this morning. He was represented by Attorney Max Hanberry.

ESTIMABLE LADY DIES.

Mrs. Sam Lampman Passed Away Saturday.

Mrs. Hattie Lampman, aged 51, died Saturday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock at her home at Seventh and Broadway, after a several weeks' illness from a complication of diseases. She was born and reared in Paducah, and was a daughter of the late Mr. Frank Greif, and a sister to Messrs. A. W. Henry and J. V. Greif and Mrs. Josephine Smith, of Metropolis. From 1873 until about a year ago she resided at Portsmouth, O. She leaves one daughter, Miss Elizabeth. The funeral took place at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, burial at Oak Grove.

COUNCIL TONIGHT

Mayor Lang Busy for Several Days on His Vet.

Meeting May Be a Lively One, From Reports—Several Improvement Ordinances.

The regular meeting of the city council takes place tonight at the city hall at 7:30 o'clock, and may prove a lively one. Mayor Lang will positively veto the second class city ordinance, and has for several days past, at leisure moments, been at work on it in his office. He will present the strongest argument possible against it, but if the eight councilmen who have supported it in the past continue to support it, the measure will be passed over his head. Should a councilman who is reported to have "flopped" vote to sustain the veto, after having twice voted for the ordinance, several improvement ordinances in which he and his constituents are vitally interested will also be killed.

The improvement ordinances were deferred from last meeting until this and will come up tonight. The public improvement committee will tonight report bids for the new hose tower, which is to dry out the hose and prevent their premature rotting away from the water remaining in them. The cost will be about $700.

CASE DISMISSED.

Marriage Prevents Further Prosecution of Garfield Cotter.

The case against Garfield Cotter, charged with the seduction of Sallie Dugger, was dismissed in the police court this morning. It was left open from Saturday and Saturday evening Cotter married the girl, and thus absolved himself under the law from further prosecution. He is unusually intelligent and a gentlemanly colored youth, and has a large number of white friends who do not believe him guilty. He married the girl as the quickest means of extricating himself from a bad and probably undesired predicament.

MARRIED IN BROOKLYN.

Young Man of Kuttawa Weds a Brooklyn Beauty.

Mr. Charles A. Marshall, a well known young hotel man from Kuttawa, and Miss Pearl Phillips, of Brooklyn, Ill., were married at Brooklyn last night at 7:45 o'clock Rev. H. C. Marshall, of Kuttawa, father of the groom, officiating. There was a large crowd of friends and relatives present to witness the ceremony. This morning the happy couple arrived here on the 7:30 train from Brooklyn, en route to their future home in Kuttawa, and left at 7:45 for that place. Both are prominent young people.

FORTY IN ATTENDANCE.

The Teachers Institute at Longfellow Building This Morning.

The McCracken County Teachers' institute this morning began its five days' session at Longfellow building, Supt. George O. McBroom conducting. Miss Hattie Futrell was elected secretary of the assembly. There are about forty teachers in attendance from various parts of the county, and many more are expected before the meeting is over. Little has been done today except to organize.

EXAGGERATED REPORT.

There has been a report in circulation today to the effect that a young couple from Paducah were married in Louisville yesterday after a sensational elopement. The report has for its existence the fact that the couple had arranged to meet in the metropolis and marry, but were prevented from carrying out their intention by the father of the young lady, having friends take charge of her train. It may not be amiss, however, to say the young man had hoped that there would be a wedding, and went so far as to speak to a minister, but friends appearing as stated preventing the happy event. The Sun suppresses names.

The forenoon yesterday was rather close and the churches had only moderate congregations. In the evening the weather was much milder and the church much larger attended.

BADLY HURT

Simon Michaelson's Horse Took Frigate at a Thunderbolt.

He Fainted in the Buggy and Was Thrown Out—Injuries Are Not Dangerous.

Simon Michaelson, a young man employed at Charles Michael's, on Second street, started yesterday afternoon to take a young lady driving. On Seventh street, near the Biederman Grocery company's establishment, the horse took frigate at a flash of lightning and ran away. Young Michaelson, according to reports, fainted from fright, and the animal, unrestrained, dashed upon a curbstone and threw him out. He was picked up and his injuries dressed by Dr. J. T. Reckie, who took him home in his buggy. The young man had his left arm dislocated and his face badly lacerated, but no bones were broken.

He is resting easy, but will probably not be able to get out for several days. The buggy was damaged, and the horse was finally caught. The rig belonged to Mr. Willett.

VERY LITTLE RAIN.

Farmers Claim They Were Badly Neglected Yesterday.

The generous shower that fell yesterday afternoon to cool the torrid temperature of the city, in which a hopeful populace had been sweltering for several days past, was not general. More rain fell in the city than anywhere else. Out the Cairo road, in many places, there was but a brief shower, while out the Benton road four or five miles not a drop fell, and very little out the Mayfield road.

The farmers are greatly in need of rain, and were badly disappointed over its failure to arrive.

BLOOMER GIRLS DIDN'T PLAY

The game of baseball between the Bee Hives and Bloomer Girls to have taken place yesterday afternoon at La Belle park was declared off, as the rain so decimated the crowd that the managers decided that the attendance would not justify a game. They left this morning for Hopkinsville where they play today, and may return here again before they have Kentucky for another game.

MONDAY, JULY 17, 1899.

Mr. Goebel's "flat denial" to Capt. Stone's charge of treachery will have to be repeated and without any holding, if he would have the people believe him at all. The captain has not only reaffirmed his statement but has put it in most pointed language, making the reputation broad enough to take in those who have lent their version of the treachery to that of Mr. Goebel. Capt. Stone's prompt answer to Mr. Goebel's statement and the tone of the reply has raised him greatly in the estimation of the people who had about concluded he had fallen a victim to treachery and deserved just what he got for his thoughtlessness. But his firmness and manhood in the matter are to a great extent redeeming him among the people, and hence the delight with which old friends have read his last terse and emphatic reply. The question now is, will Mr. Goebel be as long replying this time as he was in formulating his statement.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, which has all along been an advocate of Goebel for governor, has joined the Louisville Courier-Journal in its efforts to make the L. & N. railroad an issue in the state canvass. The Enquirer shows its cloven foot in this line by making an attack on Throckmorton, the Republican nominee for commissioner of agriculture, whom it holds up as an old L. & N. railroad conductor and therefore, it says, the candidate of this company on the ticket. The Democratic railroad employees won't appreciate this effort of their party to bring their business and livelihood into dispute, while all thoughtful citizens, those who know the value of such enterprises to the prosperity of themselves and the state, will be just as certain to rebuke a clan so determined to rule or ruin that they may get next to the state's strong box. The Democrats seem to have been pressed for an issue when they had to adopt such a communistic idea as that of driving the L. & N. railroad out of the state, as Goebel has boasted he will do and as the party leaders are threatening to do to please the boss.

In the wake of all wars follows Christianity. History verifies this statement; the growth and moral improvement of every land justifies it. Then why not expand; why disapprove of the progress certain to ensue in any christianized country? Only the political free-boater questions the morality of the expansion idea, for his better nature can but give it strong endorsement.

The Louisville Post truthfully says that the corrupt editors attribute corruption to those with whom they are unable to cope in a discussion, the drunken editors accuse their opponents of drunkenness as their only argument, and the crazy editors say the other fellow is the lunatic, though the respectable, thoughtful and sensible people know who are right and who are wrong. The Post, by the by, is saying many unusually wise things just at present and it would profit the hide-bound Democrats of the state and the nifty-pamby critics of things not to their thinking to read it very frequently if not steadily. They would be benefited no doubt in many ways.

The Democratic papers have been prompt to print Mr. Goebel's reply to Captain Stone's charge of treachery, yet few if any of them dared to print the charge. They were also prompt to criticize the letter of Judge Tarvin squelched at the state committee meeting, yet none of them will print the judge's letter. These papers may think their efforts to keep such articles from their readers will leave them in entire ignorance of their contents, but the idea is a foolish one. The appetites of their readers are only whetted by their comments for the other side and they are honest enough with themselves to obtain it, and they do so by purchasing and reading the more independent and enterprising class of papers, which are quite plentiful thanks to the free-lance class in politics and the thoughtful newspaper publishers. The day has long since passed when the editor can do the thinking for his coterie of readers.

The Democratic papers of the state are trying to draw Gov. Bradley into the canvass by making it appear that he was mistreated at Lexington. The effort no doubt causes the governor to smile, for he, as well as the entire state, knows best a most admirable endorsement at the hands of the convention and did not have to be present to engineer it through either. Gov. Bradley is not and will not be an enemy to his party, no matter if, as the Democratic press is endeavoring to make the people think, he is filled with as many sores toward some of the class as was Lazarus of old. A charge of treachery, if made direct by any one, would draw from Mr. Bradley even sharper words than that his address is such and such a postoffice, town, county, street number, state, etc.

THE STATUS.

The Lexington Herald, which is one Democratic paper independent and just enough to review its own party affairs in a proper way, publishes Mr. Goebel's reply to Capt. Stone's charge of treachery, just as it published the charge, and in its comments makes some very pointed references and puts the status of the controversy in the proper light before the people of the state. Here is what the Herald says:

"The question of veracity between Captain Stone and Mr. Goebel is a personal matter in part; but it is far more than a mere question of veracity between the two contestants for nomination."

"And it may be that in the end it will not remain a question of veracity between these gentlemen alone. Mr. Stone charges that Mr. Hines—not Mr. Woodson—brought him a message from Mr. Goebel and carried an answer and returned with a reply. It may be that Mr. Hines may be able to give much assistance in enabling just and impartial men in reaching a fair conclusion."

"Mr. Owens has published that while he and Captain Stone were talking together, Mr. Goebel sent for Captain Stone, and after a colloquy between them, Captain Stone returned and immediately made a statement that Mr. Goebel would secure for him the nomination upon certain terms. The Louisville Times on that fated afternoon published that Mr. Goebel would withdraw and nominate Captain Stone that night. Captain Stone has given a circumstantial statement of the substance of that colloquy. Mr. Goebel will also, hereafter, give his version of what was said at that time and place. Other persons no doubt, have valuable information concerning this matter, and all will finally give their evidence; for no honorable gentleman can remain silent in justice to him—whichever one it is—who is in the right."

"And when all this testimony is before the state, the judgment of an impartial public opinion will be rendered."

OUR TICKET.

The Louisville Commercial says of the Republican ticket:

"In personal character and in political strength the Republican state ticket nominated at Lexington is the peer of any that has ever sought the suffrage of the people of this state. From top to bottom it is a ticket superbly qualified for the performance of the executive and administrative duties that will devolve upon it next January, and it will be recognized throughout Kentucky as a ticket of tremendous strength at the polls."

"Headed by the gallant Taylor—the first law officer the state has had for years who understood and performed the real duties of his office, and bulwarked by the names of such citizens of character and influence as are associated with him in Republican leadership this year, the ticket is invincible. After Taylor there is John Marshall—unanimously nominated for lieutenant governor, one of the strongest of the able men in the very front rank of the Louisville bar. Then Caleb Powers—a vigorous young Republican of the Eleventh congressional district who commanded the undivided support of the counties all about him and who finally won his nomination amid a remarkable demonstration in his honor. Then Judge Clifton J. Pratt, who lives in Hopkins county but whom the whole state knows like a book and honors for the qualities that have made him one of the most distinguished Kentuckians of our time. Then John S. Sweeney—one of the greatest preachers of a church whose membership reaches into every county in Kentucky and wields a noble power wherever it sets up its altars. Then Walter R. Day—the splendid young Republican leader of Breathitt county whose years but just reach constitutional requirements, but the vigor of whose manhood nobody questions who knows him. Then John Burke and J. W. Throckmorton—chosen for their special qualifications for the offices of superintendent of public instruction and commissioner of agriculture."

"The ticket is invincible. It represents advanced political purposes. It commands the instant respect of the whole state. It cannot be slurred by Democratic malignance or belittled by partisan rivalry. It is a ticket that will be selected in November and that shall not be cheated of victory in January."

The great men, aside from the special qualities which made them extraordinary great, were just men. They had the ordinary makings of desire, passions, appetites and other weaknesses, just like all animals called men. To be sure, some that were very great in some things were really mighty small in other directions, but as a natural thing, only the really great things in great men's lives will long survive, and this shattering of 'our idols' by showing up weaknesses that all mankind is heir to is foolish and villainous work by parties who bear about the same relation to history and good literature that the 'dead animal men' and body snatchers do to our great municipalities.

"It may be somewhat necessary to somewhat preserve a record of old man Franklin's relations with the fair sex. But the work should be done at night, and the records should be judiciously covered up."

SHATTERED IDOLS.

St. Louis Chronicle: "A writer in the Century has presented an article entitled 'Franklin's Relations With the Fair Sex,' which leads the Chicago Inter-Ocean to remark: 'The glamour which time throws around most of the world's great men may be easily dispelled if we inquire too closely into their private lives, and for that reason the task of telling the plain truth about any of our idols is a thankless one.'"

"Thankless it should be. There are enough living great men with private lives without going into the almost forgotten graves of 'our idols' for sensations. It is safe to say that within ten years after they are laid away for the worms to begin on, the greatest of human 'idols' whether they have liked the incumbent heavy weight champion or written a 'Merchant of Venice,' are practically forgotten as men, as personalities, and their deeds alone remembered, their deeds upon which their greatness was founded. It may do to shatter 'idols' who preached, taught or fought wrong, by telling of their affairs of the heart, liver or stomach, but when an 'idol' deeds were really good and great and lasting in their benefits, why shatter him or displace from the minds of the rising generation the glamour that he was great all through? Does it do any good to literature to disclose that George Washington, held up to the young as all that was good and great, swore like a Chicago river tug captain and drank 13-inch rum whenever he could get it? Is it a worthy act to spread before those who need high examples the fact that one of America's greatest poets and one of her greatest song writers never wrote anything worth reading or warbling save when about two-thirds drunk? Does it help history to add that Nelson was unchaste, and that Napoleon had fits? Verily the job of showing the worm holes in the private records of great men who have been held up before our youth, in school and church, as examples for emulation should not justly be a thankless one. They might have spared old Franklin."

The entire premises have best plumbing throughout, and city sewerage connections for draining both bath-room and cellar. House is two and a half stories high with large and well finished attic, intended for private billiard room. This attic is lighted and ventilated by 18 large windows, which make the rooms below cool and comfortable during the hottest summer months. The two front rooms on lower floor are 16x22 feet, with 14-foot ceilings, and make elegant parlors. The dining room is immediately behind one of these parlors and is a lovely room, sixteen feet square, with beautiful bay window. The situation of this room makes it an ideal dining room, as it is not only very convenient to kitchen, but most accessible to every other room in the house. Opposite this dining room is a bed room of same dimensions, with large toilet room and closet attached; with four large windows and side porch it makes a most convenient and comfortable family room. The kitchen, pantry and closets further in rear complete the lower floor. These rooms are separated by a hall twelve feet wide, running almost the entire length of the house. Near the center of this hall a broad and graceful stairway leads to upper floor, and just beyond this stairway an archway for portieres screens the front from the rear view. This stairway leads to a spacious hall on second floor, which separates rooms and apartments of same size as those on lower floor. A modern and elegantly furnished bath room and closet are also on this floor. An elevator carries the coal from the cellar to a commodious coal room on this floor, which makes your coal convenient at all times and avoids the labor and inconvenience of having same carried up stairway. The wood work throughout this house is of a rich walnut finish and massive in design and corresponds perfectly with the handsome appearance of the house. The servants apartments are of brick with metal roof; some have been recently put in first-class repair. A new stable and carriage house is also on the premises, and having been recently built, it is modern in every particular. This residence was erected at a cost of about $20,000 and is unquestionably one of the finest houses in the south. Made of the finest material and designed by one of the best architects in Kentucky, it stands today as perfect as when built.

The double lot on which this house stands is 115 feet, 9 in. front, and 173 feet deep to private alley 15 feet wide in rear. Has a substantial iron fence in front, with beautiful maple trees shading pavement and yard the entire width of lot. A fine yard of blue grass, together with flowers and evergreens add to the beauty and comfort of the home. Situated as it is, on the shady side of the best residence street in the city and surrounded by elegant homes, it is not only desirable as a home, but offers splendid inducements as an investment.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS.

The City Expects Many More to Soon Begin If Ordinance Pass.

Just now a great many improvements are in progress in Paducah, and if the half dozen or more improvement ordinances now before the council for second passage are passed, many more will begin before the autumn arrives.

The new culvert from Broadway near Eleventh and Twelfth to Jefferson is nearing completion, and a large fill is being made near the Banner place, to supercede a bridge that had been condemned.

City Engineer Wilcox has just completed the plans for a new bridge, with brick foundation, near the county poor farm, and all the streets are undergoing repairs.

Many wooden culverts and crossings are having drain pipes neatly covered with gravel supplanting them, and there are various other improvements contemplated, one of which is the new wharf at the foot of Elizabeth street, and the improvement of Washington street to the river. If the street ordinances are tonight passed by the council, it will add to the already long list of public improvements.

COURT ON A BOAT.

Justice Emory Will Hereafter Have a New Court Room.

Justice Charles Emory, who has been holding court at Second and Broadway, and some times in the street and on the benches in the Market house, will spring a novelty tomorrow by holding his court on a shanty boat at the foot of Second street. Since the controversy over magistrates holding their office outside their district arose, he had been compelled under the decision of Judge Husband to change his office, which was not in his district. He has bought a shanty boat in Dogtown, and today will have it moved to the foot of the street and hold his court there.

Dr. J. W. Pendley, office 116 South Fifth street. Residence 2318 Broad way. Office telephone, 416; residence telephone, 415.
